ASNR Gold Medal Award Criteria

PURPOSE: The Gold Medal is intended to foster the highest standards of the American Society of Neuroradiology, recognizing exceptional service and achievement. The Medal is awarded on the basis of both professional and personal excellence, honoring individuals who are superb neuroradiologists, scientists, and/or physicians, and who also are truly outstanding people. Recipients will have consistently extended themselves beyond self-interest to make contributions that have benefited our entire field.

CANDIDATES: Individuals who are clinicians, researchers, teachers, or neuroradiological statesmen and stateswomen may be considered for the Gold Medal. Candidates are not required to be members of the American Society of Neuroradiology. Nominees should have made extra-ordinary contributions to enhance the development and/or stature of neuroradiology, including service to the Society.

NOMINATIONS: any Senior member of the Society may submit nominations, as follows:

Nominations must be sent by e-mail to the Gold Medal Award Committee via Bonnie Mack, Awards Coordinator, at bmack@asnr.org. On the subject line of the e-mail, indicate: Gold Medal Award Nomination. Attach your nomination letter (and CV, if available) as a Word or pdf document. Be sure to provide the qualifications of the candidate in detail. The deadline for nominations is 9:00 AM Central Time, Friday, September 30.

- ◆ Confidentiality is essential. If possible, the candidate should not be aware of his/her nomination.

EXCLUSIONS: Current Officers of the Society, members of the Executive Committee, and members of the Gold Medal Award Committee are ineligible for nomination. The Medal will not be awarded posthumously, unless a candidate dies after having been selected.

The Gold Medal Award Committee will recommend up to two candidates to the Executive Committee, which will determine any Gold Medal Award by majority vote.

PRESENTATION OF THE AWARD: ASNR's President, David B. Hackney, M.D. FACR, will award the Gold Medal at the Annual Scientific Meeting in New York, April 21-26, 2012.
