JOINT ANNUAL MEETING

ASHNR27 | ASNR27

Call for Abstracts

September 1-November 4

Join us May 14-19, 2027, in San Diego to present the best scientific research in Neuroradiology.

ASHNR and ASNR are seeking abstract submissions on the topics of Adult Brain, Spine, Head and Neck, Pediatrics, Functional/Advanced Imaging, Interventional, Health Policy, and AI/Informatics.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSIONS:

Deadline Extended! Abstracts due Wednesday, November 11, at 11:59 PM ET
Find the submission link for each abstract here: https://ow.ly/cU5550ZCsY4

Please note: If you were part of the ASNR26 abstract process (submitting, reviewing or disclosing), please log in using your existing Oxford Abstracts account credentials. New this year? Please create a new account.

Acceptance notifications will be sent on or before Friday, January 29, 2027, upon conclusion of peer review.

Required File Type: PDF (multi-page)

Excerpta: Visual presentation summarizing details of a case or case series.
Required File Type: PDF (multi-page)

Electronic Educational Exhibit: Visual presentation (PDF or PowerPoint presentation) designed to advance neuroradiology education and training by reviewing a new concept or technique, providing an educational update, or offering instruction on a particular topic. Live presentation time for select exhibits only, will be sent with acceptance notification.

ABSTRACT AWARDS

ASNR and ASHNR are committed to recognizing excellence in Annual Meeting abstract submissions. Abstracts meeting select criteria are eligible for consideration for ASNR's David M. Yousem Research Fellow Award, Cornelius Dyke Memorial Award, Outstanding Project Awards and Educational Exhibit Awards. The ASHNR recognizes top presentations with a variety of awards. These may include awards for best Educational Exhibits, best Scientific Research Abstracts, Certificates of Merit, and one or more Fan Favorite Awards for Excerpta. For more information, visit www.asnr.org/about-us/awards.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION INFORMATION

- By submitting an abstract, you agree that the presenting author will register for the meeting at their own expense. Registration type is dependent on the type of abstract you are presenting (in-person or on-demand).
- ASHNR and ASNR require disclosure from all persons in control of content, including all authors on abstracts. When added to an abstract, all co-authors on your submission will be notified to log-in and complete their own disclosure form. Once all co-authors have submitted disclosure, you will be able to finalize your submission. You will not be able to finalize your submission until all authors have completed their disclosure forms. If any disclosures cannot be submitted by the deadline, remove authors with missing disclosures and submit the abstract. Authors may be added after submission if disclosure is completed. Email education@asnr.org to add authors after the submission deadline.
- Maximum length, 500 words (combined from all text fields). Title, authors, and uploaded image do not count toward word count.
- The submission site allows uploading of a single JPG file with each submission. Only one graphic file may be submitted with each abstract. This single JPG can contain multiple images, graphics, and tables.
- At least one reference is required, and up to five references may be included. References should be formatted according to AJNR author instructions.
- DO NOT SUBMIT DUPLICATE ABSTRACTS IN MULTIPLE CATEGORIES OR SUBMISSION TYPES.
- Changes can be made to submitted abstracts until the deadline.
- ASNR encourages presenters to submit manuscripts based on their work to the American Journal of Neuroradiology or AJNR: Clinical Practice before considering other journals.
